foreword

During the school year 1957-58, Annandale High might well be compared to a thriving business. Expansion was its keynote, and its profits in terms of the realization of its purpose were overwhelming.

Nine new classrooms, additional administrative offices, and an entirely new library, its contents now 9,675 volumes, were constructed at a cost of $171,000.00 in preparation for the 1957-58 term. This was necessitated by a jump in enrollment from 1,624 to 1,915. An increased number of faculty members was also required, and in September Annandale's check-in list carried 92 names. In addition, cafeteria, custodial, and secretarial staffs were enlarged to handle the greater work load demanded of them.

Other factors were geared to the problems of a larger school. The curriculum offered more subjects, and new interest clubs were formed. Wider participation on athletic teams, publication staffs, and in the SCA was encouraged and enthusiastic interest resulted. Efforts were made to provide special educational opportunities such as the Jamestown trip sponsored by the Social Studies Department. International understanding was fostered by the presence of Annandale's first foreign exchange student.

All of these diverse components were coordinated and joined into a united attempt to enact a program which would produce the best product imaginable—well-rounded individuals aided in developing their special talents and yet given a basic background of knowledge on which to build; individuals worthy of respect and capable of continuous growth.

The production of such persons has been and will be the aim of all those connected with Annandale High. Toward such an end, hundreds of man-hours, thousands of dollars, and immeasurable effort have been expended; because at Annandale—PEOPLE ARE OUR MOST IMPORTANT PRODUCT.

MR. PETER J. VISNICH

What! Another meeting?

Almost sold out.

Eighth graders have studied percentages, volume, and margins under his direction in Eighth Grade Math; from him sophomores learned how to dissect frogs and earthworms as well as the difference between the calyx and corolla of a flower; juniors know him as their Class sponsor; faculty members recognize him as their co-worker.

These are all special roles which different persons at Annandale might associate with an individual, but some things are seen and appreciated by all—the presence of a friendly smile; the utterance of a kindly word; genuine interest and understanding for someone else; a ready willingness to help in any way one can. It is for these qualities that we wish to express our gratitude.

Therefore we the students of Annandale High School proudly dedicate this the fourth volume of the Antenna to one whom we hold in our highest esteem as a teacher, as a person, and as a friend.

Our fourth and best year draws to a close as this edition of the ANTENNA reaches you. The esprit de corps at Annandale High has been a source of great satisfaction to me. In order for any school to be successful in reaching its goals, it must run harmoniously. I have always been grateful for and proud of the cooperative attitude that has existed among the students, parents and faculty of our school. This spirit is reflected particularly in our yearbook this year, and we all give a bow to the hardworking staff as they exemplify the attitude of cooperation which we cherish.

Our many honors, collectively and individually, have helped us in developing a reputation that commands respect, attracts recognition, and justifies pride. It is my hope that each student who leaves Annandale will take with him a feeling of pride in his school and a knowledge that his success will be related to his ability in working with others.

Mr. Donald A. Russell

In October, 1957, the Annandale High School Faculty unanimously endorsed Mr. Donald A. Russell as their nominee for a newly established Fairfax Education Association award. After due consideration by the Association, Mr. Russell was presented the annual FEA award for Layman Leadership in the Advancement of Public Education in Fairfax County.

Because 1957 was the first year that an award was given, Mr. Russell's contributions since the opening of Annandale High in 1954 were considered.

During the school term 1954-1955, Mr. Russell served as the President of the Annandale High SPTA, and was instrumental in encouraging the School Board to allocate money for band instruments and bleacher seats in each Fairfax County high school. As a result, 1000 bleacher seats and $1500 for purchasing band instruments were given each school.

In 1955-1956, Mr. Russell was Chairman of the Legislative Committee of Annandale High's SPTA, a liaison representative between that organization and the School Board and school administration, and a delegate to the Fairfax County Federation of PTA'S. He also contributed his services as Chairman of the Speaker's Bureau for the $22,000,000 bond issue, and spoke at numerous civic gatherings for the purpose of selling the proposed bond program to the general public.

During the session 1956-1957, Mr. Russell was the Legislative Committee Chairman for the Annandale High SPTA, and a delegate to the Fairfax County Federation of PTA's for that organization. For the Federation, he served as Chairman of the School Budget Committee, and as a member of the Executive Committee. Mr. Russell chaired a special committee for purchasing a grand piano for Annandale High School, and personally donated approximately $100.00 worth of shrubbery for the Annandale High grounds. He spent one Saturday helping to plant this and other shrubbery. He was also active in the movement to induce the School Board to pay $1000.00 toward the purchase of a grand piano in each Fairfax County high school.

Mr. Russell's civic activities in the interest of youth were not, however, limited to the Fairfax County schools. He was also very active in the Annandale Methodist Church, the Alexandria District of Methodist Churches, and the Greater Annandale Recreation Center.

Therefore we, the editors of the Antenna, would like to join the faculty, the administration, and the student body of Annandale High in congratulating Mr. Russell on receiving the award, and in expressing our sincere gratitude for the many services he has rendered our school.

For the Class of 1958, the past school year was filled with many and varied activities. There were bake sales and dances: the annual Sadie Hawkins Day Dance, and a formal for the Alumni. Rings arrived, and dues were paid. Fittings for caps and gowns were taken, and calling cards and invitations were ordered. January Thaw was presented to an appreciative public; term papers and exams commanded attention. Then came the long-awaited New York trip.

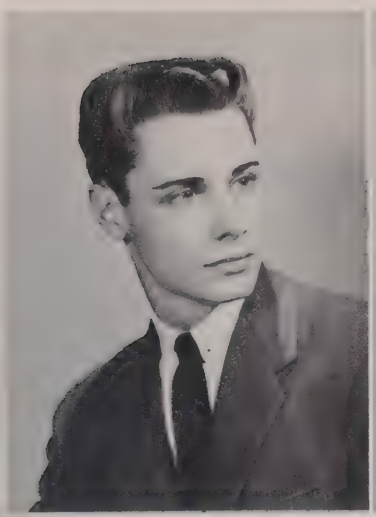

At last the end came in sight; first the Prom was over; then graduation; and all the seniors bade Annandale farewell.

In the 1957 football season, the Atoms after losing their first three games came back to win the Fairfax County championship. Besides winning the championship we had the distinction of having Mike Haycock, center, to make the All Metropolitan Team, and Joe Davies, fullback, to make the All Northern Virginia Team. In all it was a very successful football season.

Our first game was played under the lights against G. W. At the end of the first half, Annandale drove inside the one yard line but was unable to score. The second half featured a defensive duel until the final seconds when Doug Crupper of G. W. kicks a field goal to give the Presidents a 3-0 victory.

In Falls Church game A. H. S. took a 7-0 lead with the help of Jos Davies. The Jaguars offense, however, proved to be too strong by scoring two touchdowns and winning 12-7.

In a game filled with fumbles, penalties, and pass interceptions the Atoms were swamped by Wakefield 19-0. Pressed by the fumbles and other bad luck Annandale never seemed to be in the game.

McLean, one of the Metropolitans top teams was beaten by Annandale underdogs. This defeat virtually shattered McLeans prospects for the Championship of Northern Virginia Group One. It also stopped McLean's 13-game winning streak. The game looked like another loss for the Atoms for McLean scored 24 points in the first half. Then the roof fell in. Narrowing the gap to 24-13 by the half, the Atoms scored the clincher in the fourth quarter. For his outstanding play in the game Danny Drinkard was named the Northern Virginia player of the week by the Washington Post.

The W. L. Generals proved to be another stumbling block for Annandale. After acquiring a 6-0 lead in the first quarter, the Atoms were unable to contain the Generals as we lost 14-6.

On our week off for the flu the Atoms secured an easy victory over the Mount Vernon Majors. Mount Vernon who didn't win a game all year was an easy 21-0 victory. Our defense was the high point of the game as they held the Majors to only two first downs.

On a muddy field in G. W. stadium A. H. S. fought hard against Hammond, one of the five top ranked teams in the area, but to no avail. On the kickoff Saffelle of Hammond returned the kick 80 yards for a touchdown. Hammonds other two touchdowns were on quarterback sneaks. In the second period Drinkard scored from the one foot line for Annandale. In the final seconds of the game Annadale was inside of the Admirals five yard line, but the time ran out.

Our best game of the year was the Fairfax game, which we won 20-0. This was more than team effort, it was the effort of the whole school. The school was fired with the spirit that enabled our team to win over Fairfax. After a first defensive quarter by both teams, Annandale came through in the second period to score 20 points. Higham scored on a 9 yard run climaxing a 55 yard drive. Evans ran 30 yards and Davies plunged over the two yard line to score for the other two touchdowns. Haycock led the Annandale line in its best defensive game. Although it was called an upset, it proved Annandale was underrated throughout the season.

The mud, rain, wind, and the Groveton Tigers were not enough to stop the exploding Atoms at Mount Vernon. This victory clinched the Fairfax County Championship. Joe Davies scored two touchdowns on runs of 11 and 6 yards. Higham ran 55 yards for another touchdown. Drinkard put the finishing touches by a quarterback sneak for 6 more points on a good if not consistent football season.

Our first game of the season at W-L ended in defeat for the Atoms. After three closely played quarters, Washington & Lee finally pulled away in the last quarter to win 50-36. Elgin was high man for the game with 19 points.

Our second game proved more successful. Overcoming Fairfax's lead in the first quarter, Annandale coasted on to an easy victory. Together with Elgins 25 points, the Atoms racked up 66 points to Fairfax's 48.

Falls Church proved to be too much for the Atoms in a one sided game played at Annandale. At the end of all four quarters the Jaguars were in the lead. The final score of the game was 58-37.

In one of our finest games of the season Annandale swamped Groveton 70-47. Dave Cruden and Jerry Cable between them scored over half of the Atoms points with Cruden controlling both backboards and setting up the scoring plays. Groveton came back in the last period with 23 points, but this last minute effort was not enough.

Cruden shoots for 2 as GW player flexes.

The G. W. Presidents clashed with Annandale to win a brilliantly played game by both teams. Overcoming a 6 point lead at the half, G. W. went on to win 41-34.

In another heart-breaking game the Admirals edged the Atoms by a score of 71-65. The 22 points by Jerry Cable was not enough to pull Annandale through.

At Annandale the McLean Eagles were stopped short. In the first half, McLean always kept a few points ahead of A. H. S. The Atoms were pressing too hard and were unable to drive through the Eagles defense. In the second half, Cruden started the ball rolling by making two quick baskets. From then on, it was an all Annandale's ball game with Cable scoring 19 points and Elgin and Cruden bringing down the rebounds. With 20 points in the first half, and 41 points in the second, the Atoms smothered McLean 61-44.

Annandale had control of the Majors through the whole game. Elgin, one of Northern Virginia's leading scorers, once again had over 20 points. The Atoms won an easy 60-51 victory.

Fairfax was easily taken care of as the Atoms jumped off to a 9-2 lead in the early minutes of the game. Four men for Annandale hit the double figures with Dave Cruden hitting for twenty points besides having a fever. Although Fairfax had control of the backboards, they only hit 34 per cent of their shots. The final score of the game was 73-62 in favor of Annandale.

Falls Church for the second time this season handed Annandale a defeat, 75-60. Elgin and Geib together scoring 45 points were not enough to thwart the red hot Jaguars.

Groveton was defeated a second time by the Atoms, 73 to 53. Annandale jumped off to a 6 to 0 lead and were never behind anytime in the game. Dave Cruden was high scorer for the Atoms with 21 points.

In the closing seconds of our second game with George Washington, George Elgin sank a one handed jump shot to give Annandale the victory of a close, hard fought game. The Presidents led Annandale in the first three quarters, but in the fourth quarter G. W. was held to 2 points. George Washington barely missed sending the game into over-time as they sank a lay-up just as the buzzer sounded. The final score was 55 to 53 in favor of the Atoms.

The Atoms were next upset by the Hammond Admirals, 66 to 55. Hammond played a fine defensive game as the Atoms only hit for 28% of their shots. Annandale took a 5 to 1 lead in the opening seconds, but could never get back in the game.

McLean who had been defeated once by the Atoms came back in this second game to score a decisive victory, 63 to 52. The Atoms could not get much help from the bench as there were only three players available. The 21 points from Elgin were not quite enough to help win the game for the Atoms.

For the second time this year the Atoms defeated Mt.

Vernon. At the half Annandale led 30 to 21, but their lead was soon cut down as the Majors rallied in the second half. This last minute surge by Mt. Vernon, however, was not enough as the Atoms went on to win by a score of 65 to 55.

Wakefield, the Northern Virginia Champions, was too much for the Atoms as they were swamped by the score of 80 to 51. Annandale never threatened as the Warriors led all the way. Dave Cruden was high man for Annandale with 17 points.

Annandale was stopped cold in the first round of the Northern Virginia Group Tournament as they were defeated by Hammond, 52 to 47. It was a close game all the way and a hard one to lose.

The Annandale Atoms finished with an 8-8 record in Northern Virginia and a 7-3 record in Fairfax County, in all a successful season.

The Student Council Association of Annandale once again worked hard and accomplished a great deal. Early in the year the SCA innovated a new project—a Leadership Training Course which was open to all club and class officers. The Council played host to the Northern Virginia SCA Convention, and sent three delegates to the Southern Association Convention in Arlington.

A Safety Week was sponsored with a full-fleged publicity program featuring an assembly, posters, and the display of a wrecked automobile in the front circle. Later in the year an Honor Week was also held.

In February came the biggest project of the year—the Magazine Drive. As the contest continued, competition between the red team and the white team was keen as each strove to sell more magazines than the other did.

Throughout the year the representatives and Cabinet tackled various school problems, especially in connection with the Library and Cafeteria. Also, special groups such as the Handbook and Point Award Committees carried out their functions. At the end of the year, voting machines were again brought to the school, and the next year's officers were elected. Everything was made ready for the coming year.

The Eighth Grade Student Council Association had co-sponsors during the past year—one for the governmental aspects of the Council's activities and one for the social field. The legislative body consisted of the four officers, two senators, and representatives to the SCA from the seventeen eighth grade homerooms.

Class meetings were combined with special assemblies for eighth graders only. One assembly featured a fashion show presented by the eighth grade home economics classes and performance by the Reserve Band which is composed mainly of eighth graders.

Throughout the year the SCA gave eight informal dances for members of the Prep Class and their guests exclusively. In the spring a semi-formal dance was held. Also in the spring, the SCA sponsored the crippled children's drive in the school and throughout the surrounding communities.

At the end of the year all of the eighth grade's unused funds were contributed to the Athletic Association.

The Eighth Grade Student Council Association had co-sponsors during the past year—one for the governmental aspects of the Council's activities and one for the social field. The legislative body consisted of the four officers, two senators, and representatives to the SCA from the seventeen eighth grade homerooms.

Class meetings were combined with special assemblies for eighth graders only. One assembly featured a fashion show presented by the eighth grade home economics classes and performance by the Reserve Band which is composed mainly of eighth graders.

Throughout the year the SCA gave eight informal dances for members of the Prep Class and their guests exclusively. In the spring a semi-formal dance was held. Also in the spring, the SCA sponsored the crippled children's drive in the school and throughout the surrounding communities.

At the end of the year all of the eighth grade's unused funds were contributed to the Athletic Association.

For the staff of Anandale's annual, the Antenna, the school year was as hectic as always. In the fall, the editors visited the publisher's plant in Baltimore. Then the "dummy" arrived, showing a tentative layout for each page. A cover was designed, and pages were re-planned again and again. A theme was selected, and the person to whom the book would be dedicated was chosen. Hundreds of pictures had to be taken, and then captions and copy were composed.

The business staff sponsored a subscription drive, and sold all the advertising space in the book. Deadline approached, and desperation seemed to rule. Pictures were cropped and the art-work was drawn.

Then came the final deadline, and the last page was mailed to the printer. This deadline could not have been met without the assistance of Mr. Mooney, an able photographer and a friend of the school. The staff had worked hard and had done its best. There was nothing left to do but anxiously await the distribution date.

Annandale's newspaper, the A-Blast, was published by the members of the second-year journalism course, but many hours besides the daily class period were devoted to its production. The original schedule provided for four-page issues which were to be published twice each month. After three issues had been printed, however, production plans were altered. During the remainder of the school year, five six-page issues were published, one appearing each month.

In order to help finance the paper, in addition to its subscription drives, the staff sponsored a dance and also several bake sales on Saturdays when school was in session.

In the spring, three delegates were sent to the convention of the SIPA.

Under its co-editors, the A-Blast staff worked diligently throughout the year to give the students a paper that was amusing, informative, and thought-provoking as well. Certainly success was theirs.

Since Annandale High first opened in 1954, both the students and the surrounding communities have always been very proud of the school's instrumental music department. This feeling of pride has invariably been justified by the excellent performances which the department has given.

It was divided into three groupings this year: the Cadet Band, which was for beginning musicians; the Reserve Band, with 55 members; and the Concert Band, with 65 members. The Concert Band also served as the School's Marching Band.

These bands by no means kept their accomplishments to themselves. The Concert Band played for numerous assemblies, besides sponsoring an assembly themselves in conjunction with the choral music department. Both the Reserve and Concert Bands participated in three concerts; one in the fall, one at Christmas, and one in the spring.

The Concert Band participated in the annual Spring Festival for Northern Virginia, and played at Commencement. Fifteen of its members played in the All-State Band.

Each year the Concert Band has played increasingly difficult music. This year it has been performing pieces rated as Grade Six. All in all, Annandale was pleased to call these bands her own.

The Department as a whole sponsored the annual Winter Wonderland Dance which is semi-formal, and all choirs participated in the Winter and Spring Concerts. The Concert Choir sang at several assemblies, and the Madrigal Singers, who sing English folk songs for the most part, won second place in the Talent Show.

In the spring, a folk opera, Down in the Valley, was presented in conjunction with the Fairfax Symphony Orchestra. Also the choir members participated in the All-State Chorus.

For the Annandale Chapter of the National Honor Society, the school year 1957-1958 was a busy one. First the Chapter sponsored College Night. Representatives from 48 colleges and universities in 10 different states came to discuss the advantages their schools had to offer with Annandale seniors and juniors. At the end of each semester, the Chapter formulated and published an Honor Roll, and, in February, established a tutoring service.

Bake sales, and even a record hop, were given in order to raise funds for the two $100.00 scholarships which the Chapter offers to Annandale seniors annually. Also, two induction assemblies were held; one, in the fall, for seniors only; and one, in February, for both juniors and seniors. Meanwhile, each member strove to maintain in himself the qualities of "Character, Scholarship, Leadership, Service."

junior honor society

The Annandale Chapter of the National Junior Honor Society was formed during the past year when 61 charter members, all of whom were sophomores, were inducted. A great deal of organization had to be done, but as soon as its officers were elected and the basic procedures for operation laid out, they began getting things accomplished.

To start things rolling in the social field, a Christmas party was held. It soon became apparent that funds would be needed, and the Chapter sponsored a bake sale in Annandale in March. The Junior Honor Society Chapter worked hand in hand with the Senior group on several of its projects, especially the tutoring service, and finally, in the spring, the Chapter held its first induction program for freshmen.

The Key Club, being a service organization, was in charge of the School Supply Store during the past year, and supplies were sold to the students at greatly reduced rates. The Club also aided the Kiwanis Club with their Pancake Day, and gave one family a Christmas dinner. Key Club members directed traffic and parked cars at many school functions.

They sponsored several assemblies and bake sales and gave a record hop. In February they sponsored the annual Sweetheart Dance with a queen and court. In the spring many of the members attended a state Key Club Convention.

Soon after the Club's formation, many of the Keyettes attended a Fairfax County Keyette Convention at George Mason High School. Later, having written their constitution and by-laws, the Keyettes worked for the remainder of the school year with the Key Club on joint projects.

french club

Membership in the French Club is open to any student who is taking at the time or who has taken French. Its purpose is to learn more about the French people and their customs in order to supplement their study of the language. In keeping with this purpose, the Club invited guest speakers to its meetings, and took its annual field trip to a French restaurant and then to a movie with French dialogue. The Club also sponsored the traditional Mardi Gras Dance at which everyone wears a mask, and prizes are awarded for the best costumes.

french honor society

The National French Honor Society is composed of students who maintain a "G" average in French and a "M" average in their other subjects. New members, taken from the second- and third-year French classes were inducted at the end of the first semester.

The Anandales Chapter's project for the year was to obtain shrubbery for landscaping the school grounds. In order to raise funds for their program, the Chapter sponsored the gala Christmas Bazaar which featured Christmas gifts imported from France.

The Latin Club met outside the Latin classes for the first time in 1957-1958, but its activities were by no means curtailed. The Club was the host for the State JCL Convention in October, and in February went to see the movie "The Seven Hills of Rome." In March the Latin Club sponsored an assembly during the Evaluation Committee's visit and gave a Roman banquet the same day. Finally, in May the Club held its annual May Dance, the theme for this year being "The Garden of the Gods."

The purpose of the Future Homemakers of America Club is to prepare its members to become better homemakers. The fact that the Club has been able to tie the concept of service in with this purpose has greatly benefited Annandale during the past year. The Breakfast Club in the Cafeteria each morning was sponsored by the Club, and at Thanksgiving members of the Club filled a basket for the Fairfax County Welfare Agency. In the spring they helped the Agency again. At Christmas, the girls filled stockings for the Red Cross.

FHA Club members also become better acquainted with girls from other schools by attending Federation meetings with FHA members from six other area schools.

Oh, what a glorious Christmas this is!

The rustle of pettycoats, the clicking of high heels, and the beautiful, dreamy soft music from a real-live band: these things are the ones that made our formal dances of 1957-1958, the glorious, romantic social activities they were.

Remember the Winter Wonderland Dance given by our choral department, and the Sweetheart Dance sponsored by the Key Club?

What dividends did you receive from these festivities?

Beth steps out with the minister.

Best rat's nest ever made.

informal dances

Throughout this past year the students of Annandale High have enjoyed the wonderful informal dances given by the different clubs of our school.

Take a look and see if you're in one of these photos displaying the Mardi Gras, the Sadie Hawkins, and a few of the sock-hop dances. See if this does not bring back memories.

And there we sat in royal splendor, golly, gee . . .

Patty-cake is a favorite game but ya! gotta know how to play it.

Ring Around the Rosie.

That's nerve for ya! crashin' a decent dance.

Just a bunch of haws, thats all.

Dreamy eyed, all of them.

Ah, come on Betty, get up.

senior class takes a bow

The roof-top rang with laughter and applause when the Senior Class of Annandale High presented, with the expert assistance of Miss Robey, JANUARY THAW.

This play, a comedy concerning the lives of a country family and a city family, was well accepted by all who viewed it. The entire cast was recommended for Hollywood—after they graduate, of course.

What happened to "Goody"?

"Ron keeps a dirty house—shame, shame.

The magazine drive started in full swing this year as the industrious students campaigned throughout the school and community striving to make another record breaking success as they had done the previous year.

We were not surprised at Kelly but, Mr. Fisher, really.

Good ol' Tom was on hand, swinging and jiving like usual.

With the new title of "Juniors" established, Annandale High began to hear more and more about its Class of 1959. Junior names appeared on the Antenna and A-Blast staffs and as contributors to the newly-founded literary magazine, on club rosters, on committees, and in the minutes of the SCA.

Meanwhile, studies were not completely ignored, and the "59'ers" experimented in the chemistry lab, worked feverishly on term papers, and read what seemed to be hundreds of volumes for book reports.

As an organization the Junior Class was active also. Baked goods donated by Class members were sold in the Cafeteria, and Record Hops were held. Juniors sponsored the sale of school stationery, and paid Class dues. A Junior play was held for the first time at Annandale, and in the meantime preparations for the Junior-Senior Prom progressed.

In the spring Class rings were ordered, and then in June came the highlight of the year—the Prom. For the Class of 1959, the Junior year was past.

In September, 1957 a new set of Sophomores appeared on the Annandale scene. They studied second year Latin, Spanish and French and began dissecting earth-worms, crayfish and frogs in biology classes. Congruent triangles and linear equations vied for their attention as some studied plane geometry, others algebra. A Tale of Two Cities was read in English, and typewriters clicked furiously in Typing I.

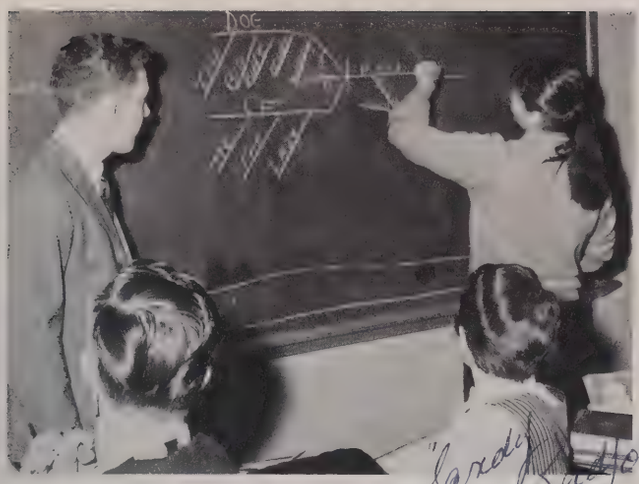

As a reward for educational distinction Sophomores became charter members in Annandale's Junior National Honor Society Chapter, gave an induction assembly and elected officers.

The class worked as a unit to sponsor a Record Hop, and held a party for 10th Graders only during the Christmas holidays.

The athletic teams were proud of their Sophomore Sportsmen and had good reason to be so. The S.C.A. Treasurer was a member of the Class of 1960 and several other classmates served on the S.C.A. President's Cabinet. Sophomores served on the A-Blast and Antenna Staffs and as club officers.

All in all for the Sophomores 1957 was a crossroads in the midst of their high school careers. It was a time for memories and for planning ahead; it was a year of decision and lots of fun!

For the Class of 1961, 1957-1958 was their Freshman year, and they took full advantage of it. They had passed the "Prep Class" stage, and now they faced the crowded halls and frenzied pace with more confidence, more aplomb.

They studied language for the first time, as well as algebra. Geography and civics wrinkled their brows, and Anthony's oration filled their ears.

Now they were earning credits toward graduation and grades which would appear on the transcripts sent to the colleges of their choice—the time had come for them to look to the future and plan ahead.

8th Grade Officers: Jack Bennett, Treasurer; Pixie Crutcher, Secretary; Ed Stealy, President; Donato Moreno, Vice-President.

In September, 1957, a new group of eighth grade students entered Annandale High. For each of them the moment was one of decision—their high school careers had begun.

Early in the year, officers and homeroom representatives were elected for the Eighth Grade Student Council Association, and an Eighth Grade Chorus was formed as well. Through the year, special teams in football, basketball, and baseball aroused the enthusiasm of sports-minded members of the "Prep Class". When Magazine Drive time came, the Class made an outstanding record in sales. Exploratory courses in art, music, shop, home economics, and general languages helped the eighth graders in planning their curriclum for the next year.

Finally, in June, the members of the "Prep Class" came to realize that a change had taken place within them. They were no longer preparing for the year ahead; they were ready to take their places as the freshmen of Annandale High.

Jo Ann -
We've had a lot of fun together these past two years, I hope we can have more of the same right on to graduation. I hope we can get together this summer, too. Have yourself a ball with J. this summer, and I hope I see you meet R. D still say yo borrow a cup of sugar. Stay just like you are now and you'll go far. Have gobs of fun now and always but be good and don't do anything I wouldn't. See ya next year and I hope we have some classes together
Best of everything always.
Love ya,
Priscilla
